“Ripples of the Early Chinese American Pioneers”

1:25 to 2:35 p.m.

Presented by Russell Low

Russell Low found a previously unknown 100-year-old Hong family photograph, Low embarked upon a decades-long search to find the stories behind the 1903 photograph. He masterfully weaves family stories and real-life characters with the historical and political events of 19th century America. Three Coins is meticulously researched with 100 newspaper articles and photographs. Chinese American history is brought to life by the drama, romance, and intrigue of his rich family story.

Nikkei Interest Group Presents

2:40 to 3:00 p.m.

“We Were Americans”

It is the story of the perseverance of the Yamada family before, during and after World War II: their early farming days in the San Joaquin Valley, their incarceration at Poston Internment Camp in Arizona and their eventual return to farming in the San Joaquin Valley.

“We Were Americans” was commissioned in 2018 by the Glendale Public Library’s ReflectSpace Gallery, under the direction of Ara Oshagan. It was filmed on location at the site of the former relocation camp near Poston, Arizona and was directed, produced and edited by filmmaker Avo Kambourian.
